Select Chair Bruno – We had a meeting with our attorney out back with Alex our CEO and Bob O’Neill who is the chair of the Planning Board. Our advice to you right now is to seek a peer review on the wetlands that are there. Meaning, all we have right now is the plan from the solar people, but we are suggesting that you seek a peer review from someone like Cumberland County Soil and Water and have them come walk the property and give their opinions of wetlands and runoff. We don’t think DEP is going to help you at all. So, we are suggesting that to the Planning Board. Bob O’Neal is aware of it. Their meeting is next week, we suggest you go the meeting and say to them, we would like a peer review of the wetlands on this project.

Select Sadak –It’s a completely different opinion of the wetlands.

Select Chair Bruno – So that’s what we are suggesting. We got some legal advice, we know what you folks are here for, it’s probably not there yet. If you get the peer review on the wetlands, we think it could be a significant impact on this project. What we are suggesting is Cumberland County Soil and Water.

5) Old Business

- a) Discussion of Proposed Solar Array and Citizen’s Request for a Moratorium – Alex Sirois, CEO

At least 20 residents, as well as an attorney retained by some of the residents, some of whom live on Pulpit Rock Road and many who live on or around or near Thomas Pond attended and attended and many spoke regarding the proposed project and how it would be detrimental to the lake, the wildlife, vernal pools, and the residents. They also expressed frustration with the process thus far. They collected over 260 signatures of residents asking for a retroactive moratorium to allow time for the ordinance to be changed.

David Fowler who is the applicant to build the solar farm also spoke about his company’s philosophy of environmental conservation.

Motion to table the remaining items of the agenda until the next regular meeting by Select Olsen. Seconded by Select Sadak.
